AUTHOR. ACTIVIST. INFLUENCER

INSPIRING WOMEN TO LIVE FEARLESSLY

“What would happen if you didn’t do it?” is one of Skyy’s favorite quotes and with it as her mantra, she leads a fearless life of an entrepreneur, activist and author. Using this question, she inspires her audience to reach for greatness while living lives of balance. Skyy embodies and encourages women’s abilities to be healthy, successful and happy.

After hearing about her challenges, focus, and determination, Skyy’s audiences leave empowered to bravely step out on purpose and live fearlessly.

ABOUT SKYY

Having been named Afro Elle Magazine’s top 40 under 40, Skyy is making moves across the country. Armed with a Masters Degree in Public Health Management Skyy has been able to marry her love for writing and her advocacy work to empower the underserved and to amplify the voices of many. As Atlanta’s Red Pump Project Ambassador she works tirelessly to raise awareness about the impact of HIV/AIDS on women and girls. Partnering with local health agencies, foundations, and community activists, Skyy seeks to empower the masses through education, prevention and promoting healthy lifestyles.
